

2011 NTUT INTERNATIONAL STUDENT [ARRAY] COMPETITION

THEME

This competition takes on an elemental perspective to architectural design and sustainability. Entrants are to revisit the methods to ARRAY spaces and produce creative proposals for a set of ARRAY with certain spatial order or mechanism under consideration of ecological design. The evaluation and definition of "ARRAY" are open to applicants' imaginations. While the term "ecological" is subjected to many definitions: social, ecological, sustainable, its re-evaluations are open to students' interpretations. Entrants are free to choose or make site, real or virtual.

ELIGIBILITY

Open to international students in the fields of architecture and design related disciplines from an accredited four-year or five-year architecture program. Graduates with certificate in 2011 are accepted. Teamed collaboration consisting of no more than 3 students in the above mentioned fields is permitted. Works submitted must be of applicants' original works. Works done through school studios are accepted, but limited to 2011 term.
